ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

(No changes in this regulation except in paragraphs 4 and 5 shown below.)

INSPECTOR GENERAL

4. MISSION

The Inspector General is charged with the responsibility for conducting systematic investigations, on behalf of the Director, of the performance of missions and exercise of functions of all components in the Agency at headquarters and in the field. He is also responsible for the maintenance of the Agency's liaison with the Congress of the United States.

5. FUNCTIONS

The Inspector General shall:

- a. Make recommendations with respect to the missions and functions prescribed for the several offices, staffs, and divisions of the Agency and with respect to such procedures and methods as may assist them more fully to perform their respective functions;
- b. Make recommendations with respect to the proper assignment of missions and functions in the overall interests of the Agency;
- c. Provide a forum where Agency personnel may, on a highly confidential basis, confide grievances or complaints which have not received satisfactory consideration through regular channels of command or through the procedures provided for in CIA Regulation [REDACTED]
